SHE SAID FOR ME TO WRITE MY NAME IN JAPANESE WITH THIS BRUSH...
I GUESS I'LL USE THOSE "SUBSTI-TUTION STENCILS" SETSUNA-SAN GAVE ME.

Ed's note: I will leave this in Japanese for easy understanding. Here Negi is trying to write his name but he wrote "Nugi" instead. 'Nu' and 'Ne' in Hiragana are somehow similar *Here Negi's trying to write 'Ne' but he messes it up to something looks like 'Mi'. So his name is now 'Migi'

*Now he changes to Katakana but he still can't get the 'Ne' character right. He wrote 'Ho' so his name is now 'Hegi Nupringfield'

*Finally he writes his name right as 'Negi Springfield' (in Katakana) as you can see on the paper ('Su' and 'Nu' in Katakana are also very similar)

YOU WON'T LOSE TO ANY MERE HUMAN, EVEN IF HE'S A PRO WRESTLER!

A MINISTRA MAGI DRAWS MAGICAL ENERGY FROM THE MAGE IN ORDER TO GREATLY ENHANCE THEIR PHYSICAL ABILITIES
AS LONG AS NEGI-ANIKI HAS MAGICAL ENERGY, ANE-SAN CAN USE THAT POWER TO BECOME SUPER HUMAN!
WELL, ANE-SAN HAS A PRETTY GOOD BODY TO BEGIN WITH...
THE SWORDSMEN OF SHINMEIRYUU GATHER THE "KI" FROM WITHIN THEIR BODIES AND USE IT IN THEIR COMBAT TECHNIQUES
THIS "KI" IS ALSO USED FOR ONMYOU* TECHNIQUES

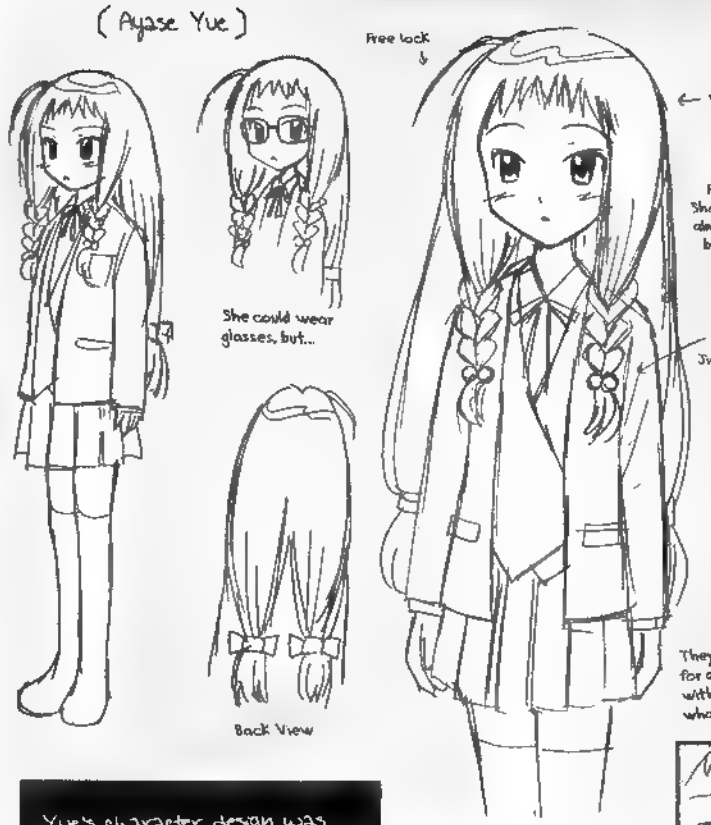
Kotarou
Great physical strength
Ninja wolf-boy?
(Kotarou)
Chao
Very proud "a ninja wolf-boy"
Samper-like hairstyle. Hair flowing.
Kotarou's character design is also Ran Ayanaga's. Thanks a lot! Only a girl could give him that special touch to it. Kotarou is very strong in hand-to-hand, but Negi is able to win against him with the help of Honya. ...Poor guy.



(Ayase Yue)
Free lock wide brow
Fallen Shoulders, almost no breast
She could wear glasses, but...
Jingle Bells in the pigtails
Back View
They asked us for a character with pigtails, what about this?
Eyes angled upwards
※ Although her panties or underwear is seen she doesn't mind too much, but she is very shy in other aspects...
※ If she had a nature close to Komako of Love Hina, so much the better.
Yue's character design was made by one of my old assistants, Ran Ayanaga. Perhaps that's why she has a ROD feel to it... Yue is always having strange drinks, be on the lookout for them... ...There are very strange mixes... (laugh) name: Suzu-chan

Glosary of spells and artifacts appeared in Negima!

—The insular kingdom of Yamato is a country that rests thanks to their plegaries. There lies its happiness—
[Hua Yook] volume XIII

[PERIOD 38TH]

■「Adeat」＼「Abeat」

- Spells used by the Minister to summon or vanish the artifact assigned. "Adeat" means "come forth" and "Abeat" "vanish", respectively. Apparently it's not neccesary that the Minister knows deeply the meaning of the spell. As Asuna, being so bad studying and knowing no magic at all, can use it easily.

■DIARIUM EJUS

- The artifact assigned to Miyazaki Nodoka, as ministra of Negi, by the force of the Pactio. "DIARIUM" means "diary", something that occurs every day and, by extension, the book where the every day facts and impressions get recorded. "EJUS" ("from them") is the genitive tense of "id" ("he", "that person"). In this book the thoughts of other people can be read. The psychoanalist Sigmund Freud used the term "id" to refer to the subconcious of everyone

■𑖀

A

- The sanscrit letter that Kotarou wears in his hat as an embellishment. It's the initial letter, that represents all buddhas, in the Mandalas Taizo-Kai of the Great Buddah Dainichi Nyorai (Mahavairocana). It means "the absolute, the lack of desire". The ideology of the different buddhist branches that revere Dainichi Nyorai gather many of the ancestral prayers and beliefs, like, for example, the traditional ascetism of the Japanese mountains, etc.

[PERIOD 39TH]

■「𑖌𑖼」

Om

- Word that initiates the Mantras, its meaning is "the absolute". This mantra, written as (𑖌𑖼), can be translated also as "Invocation". Basically it's a prayer that India's brahmans recite as a spell. Said prayers are all included in the Rig Veda Sanhita. In 1816, the german Franz Bopp found the extraordinary coincidences among the grammatical structures in sanscrit and the classical European tongues, like Latin or Greek.

Bopp established the foundations of the modern Compared Grammar It could be said that spells that are recited eastwards and those used by the occidental mages are cousins

■ Kagabiko Sanctuary

- Same as the Fushimi Temple in Kyoto, it has a long file of Torii that mark the entrance It's known that the base of the Kansai Magic Association is not far from Arashiyama and Sagano but the exact location is unknown From the first book of the Kojiki (Mythological chronicle of Japan, VIII century), "Kagabiko" is another name for Kagutsuchi, the fire god, which burned her mother, Izanami, when he was born She pretented to birth six main deities combining metal, earth water and wood but from her death and the birth of Kagabiko, called "The Fifth", people began to talk about "the five elements" wood, fire, earth, metal and water Thus its importance

Ja \ A \ Ji \ Da

- The sanscrit symbols inscribed in the spider demon's legs means "enemy" is "disaster" and "attack" Perhaps it's to make the control of so powerful a creature easier

■「Shield」

(DEFLEXIO)

- It makes a magic shield appear that stops direct physical attacks Generally speaking it's an energy barrier that encircles the magician's body to protect him from physical harm

The spell that appeared in Period 34th, FLANS PARIES AERIALIS, is extraordinarialy powerful, but it only lasts for an instant whereas this one while less powerful in comparision is a permanent barrier As Negi is specialized in Wind spells, his shields are formed based on that element.

[PERIOD 40TH]

On-Aku-Vi-Ra-Un-Kya-Sha-Raku-Man

- The Mantra called "spell of the eight symbols", that is recited in many different magic procedures Even if it's called "of the eight symbols" it has nine symbols in realitv as you can appreciate, as the initial " " is considered just complementary from the chanting and not part of the Mantra itself.

Vam

- This letter symbolizes the Great Buddah Dainichi Nyorai in the Kongo-Kai mandalas, but in the elemental deities doctrine in the ancestral japanese ascetism earth, water, fire wind, void and knowledge, the letter symbolizes water. "Every being and the elements of creation are subordinate to water", it is said. Invoking this symbol they provoked the fog, after applying a spell to the drink they got from the vending machine

[PERIOD 41TH]

■「COUNTERATTACK」

(contra pugnent)

• Negi orders the spirits of Wind that he had invoked to attack Contra means "counter", pugnent means "attack"

■「Ray of light that tears apart the night!
Gather unto my hand and strike down my enemy.
「White Thunder」」

(unus fulgor concidens noctem in mea manu ens inimicum edat.
FULGURATIO ALBICANS)

• From the hand of the mage emerges a violent thunderclap that causes very severe damage to the enemy This attack is not very useful to break or crush objects, but it has a devastating effect over people and animals.

■「Activate the contract for half a second for me, Negi Springfield」

(sim ipse pars per secundam dimidiam Negius Springfieldes)

• With this spell, Negi gathers together in himself the magical force that the wizard sends to reinforce his partner Normally it is said "sis mea pars", that means "You are a part of me" or "Let her become a part of me" but this time he uses an atypical form "sim ipse pars", literally "Let me be a part of myself" Perhaps due this atypical nature it left Negi very battered physically and mentally

A-Vi-Si

• The symbols written in the Torii It means "Timeless Jail" and they are used to maintain the dimensional barrier created with the spell "Endless Labyrinth"

[PERIOD 42TH]

Van-Uun-Tarataku-Kiriiku-Aku

• Onmyoudou Invocation amply known as "Seman" that is used for multitude of spells and magical procedures Basically consists in classifying and reciting the symbols of the five buddhas (Gochi Nyorai) that are represented in the form of a diamond (Kongo-Kai) in the mandalas of the Shingon sect That means it's not exclusive of the Onmyoudou Besides this, in the fourth book of the Spiritual chronicles of Heaven and Earth (Tenchi Reikiki), it is said "The five primordial spirits are brought from the four existing buddhas, but the fifth is the sum of them all Thus the five elements are born", identifying the five elements with the five buddhas. The worthy contribution of the masters of Onmyou was to study more deeply the energetic nature or "Ki" of these elements wood, fire, earth, metal and water Till 1868, first year of the Meiji Age, when they separated officially buddhism and shintoism, both doctrines had reached many points in common In Japan of ages past many different sects and beliefs lived together with almost no difference among them Glancing at Japan's history it can be deduced that the invocations of the Onmyoudou belong to the symbolic and esoteric branches of buddhism

[PERIOD 43TH]

Kyaaya

• Among the three mistical manifestations of the buddah (body, word and thought), it represents the body Setsuna used this invocation to give a provisional body to Negi, like a magic-activated kind of doll.

PACTIO CARDS
[INTERPRETATION]

Charta Ministralis —Partner Card—

Misterious Roman Numbers ?
The numbers themselves have multiple hidden and mysterious meanings specially from to 3, where there are many prime numbers. For example symbolizes absolute perfection whereas 2 represents the interaction between complementary forces Ying and Yang and symbolizes change 7 also called "lucky number" is considered a sign with great powers because it's the upper one digit number of all prime numbers 3. hat couldn't be represented with just a sign n the ancient duodecimal matemathical notation, adquired the meaning of death, passing through another life and also, resurrection

If we break down the number that appears in Asuna and Nodoka's cards in to their prime numbers it's very interesting to see how in both cases their logarithm is equal to 3

The magic circle of the PACTIO with the symbols of all 12 zodiacal houses and an inner 6-point star The creation of this circle is very easy to accomplish, as even an ermine-spirit can achieve it

Nickname of the Minister It makes direct reference to some part of their personality talent or capacity virtus—virtue—

Depending of the personality of the minister one of the Cardinal Virtues in the Western culture is resalted

Sapientia (Wisdom)
Audacia (Courage)
Temperantia (Restraint)
Justitia (Justice)
Fides (Faith)
Spes (Hope)
Caritas (Charity)

The first four appear in Plato's The Republic (427E and specially from 441E to 444A) the next three can be found in the Saint Paul letter to the Chorintians, quoted mostly in weddings

These are not precisely what we call nowadays "Virtues" favorable or useful attributes of a person or an object The one that keeps the sense the best with all the original subieties is "courage" And from that comes the saying "A bit of courage is the real magic "

tonus—colour—

For modern science colour is just an electromagnetic wave in a determinated frequency but in the old times it had an important symbolic value

For example in St John's Apocalypse (2: 8 It is said that the Son of God has fiery red eyes. Or as it is demonstrated by the black stone that symbolizes the Mother-God Cibeles, from Asia Minor black doesn't just represent the fight among light and darkness, life against death It also holds a life-after-death meaning

Every Pactio Card has a representative colour for example:
e.g.
Rubor (Red)
Caerula (Blue)
Viride (Green)
Flavum (Yellow)
Cyaneum (Indigo)
Purpura (Purple)
Viola (Violet)
Luteum (Orange)
Roseum (Pink)
Album (White)
Nigror (Black)
Aurum (Gold)
Argentum (Silver)
Prisma (Iridiscent)
et cetra

The different colours are a reflex of the personality and circumstances of every Minister The cards of golden, silver or iridiscent tones are extremily rare and fetch such a high price that they are smuggling items on occasion astralitas—astral sign—

It depends of the birthdate of every minister

e.g.
Luna (Moon)
Sol (Sun)
Mars (Mars)
Venus (Venus)
Mercurius (Mercury)
Jupiter (Jupiter)
Saturnus (Saturn)
Uranus (Uranus)
Neptunus (Neptune)
Pluton (Pluto)
Cometes (Comets)
Fax (Shooting Stars)
Caelus Siderallis (Starry Sky)
Nigrum Foramen (Black Hole)
et cetra

Astrology based on the seven main celestial bodies (moon, sun, mars, venus, jupiter and saturn) was established by the old Sumerians, being transmited afterwards to the Asirians and Babilonians. After the Alexander the Great's conquests, the astronomic science developed in the orient passed to Greece and from there to all Europe directio—direction—

From the old times, it's known that Earth is round thanks to the astronomer Tolomeo Because of that the cardinal points that appear in the Minister card are not just indicators of direction

Oriens (East)
Occidens (West)
Auster (South)
Septemtrio (North)
Centrum (Center)

For example towards the West is the Garden of Eden up to the traditions of some countries To the north we have the North Star that marks the center of the sky From East the sun rises, bringing a new day

NEGI MA!

Differentiy to the definitive alliance, the process to complete a provisional alliance is very flexible and it's enough to give a kiss on the forehead or that it's given to you to complete it and generate a card.

But in these cases (in those the kiss is not in the mouth) what appears is a "joke card". As you can see, they are almost a joke (laugh.)

In the story so far there has been 7 joke cards. Up till now they haven't gotten any highlights so we will reproduce them here.

Aren't they funny? (or so I think....)

魔法先生ネギま!

MAGISTER NEGI MAGI
KEN AKAMATSU

SHONEN MAGAZINE COMICS

[A word from Author]

This volume of [Negima] is the continuation of the school trip. And there's another one!

Ah, school trips... Days are for walking around watching the monuments, nights are for partying with your friends in the hotel, right? I drew this carefully while I remembered my own experiences when I was just a kid... Ahem, or that's what I'd love to say. In fact, I have a lousy memory and can't remember a thing. (^^;)

You know? The maxi-CD with the voices of the seiyuus has entered the hit lists? Can it be that all the readers have bought it?

Character Comentary

③ Kazumi Asakura

She has an air like Kitsune, from Love Hina, although they are different, of course! (laugh)

As a very ambitious news reporter, she's willing to eat the whole world, although she also has a great sense of justice. She's very active. From just a glance she notices what happens.

Her grades are of the highest in class, and one of the largest in breast too.

Although Shizuna-sensei still wins...

If she made a Pactio with Negi, she could be a formidable fellow.

As a spy, perhaps...?

...But I am afraid she would end up being bossy, same as Kitsune would. Perhaps it's better she doesn't get too much of a leading role... (^^;)

Don'cha think ?
